Alums Come Together for Reunion Weekend

For over ninety years, Holy Name School has provided a strong educational and spiritual foundation for students. The memories that have been made are immeasurable. Once again classmates are coming together to celebrate those memories and friendships that were created as students at Holy Name. This year's reunion weekend will be held June 11th and 12th. We hope you will join us in celebrating Reunion Weekend 2011.

Curt Simon Class of 1971

What is your favorite memory of Holy Name School?

My favorite memories are participating in the plays, musicals and conference acting competitions.

After graduation, did you continue on to post secondary education...What career path did you take after graduating from Holy Name?

After graduating in 1971, I attended UNO for a short time and worked various jobs. In 1974, I began a career in the intercity bus business with Greyhound Lines. I left Greyhound in 1987 to work for Metro Area Transit, where I am still employed as the Executive Director. I did go on to complete post secondary education at Bellevue University. I am married to my best friend and wonderful wife Julie. We have a 13 year old daughter, Molly. I have 2 grown sons from my first marriage, Bryan and Nick.

In your family life after high school (college) – did your learning experiences at Holy Name play a role in your choice of spouse, marriage, in raising your children?

My 12 years of catholic education taught me the importance of faith and the purpose and structure it helps bring to life. I have tried to instill this in my marriage and by providing catholic teaching to my children.

Who was your favorite Holy Name grade/high school teacher?

My favorite grade school teacher was Sister Collette, I had her for both 1st and 4th grade. My favorite high school teacher was Kirk Este who taught history and social studies.

If you could go back and tell your Holy Name teachers one thing what would it be?

“Leave me alone, quit picking on me.”

What is your advice to current Holy Name students?

My advice is to stick with it, no matter how things may look. Persistence pays off and there is no substitute for passionately pursuing your dreams and goals.

What is your hope for Holy Name School?

My hope is that HN endures for many years to come.

The Mission of Holy Name Catholic Elementary School

The mission of Holy Name Catholic Elementary School is to educate children of diverse backgrounds to be academically prepared, compassionate toward others and rooted in the Catholic Christian Community

From the Principal

Angela Koch

As an accredited school in the State of Nebraska, Holy Name School is required to engage in 5 year cycles of continuous improvement. Goals are determined at the beginning of each cycle and then the process of developing action plans and activities to accomplish those goals are put into place. The process is culminated with a visit from an external team of evaluators. We have just completed this round of 5 years. I want to share some of the process and results with you.

Math problem solving and school climate were our target areas of study. Each of the teachers was involved in one of the target area committees. But, every teacher was responsible for implementing the action plans developed for each study area. Over the 5 years many new ideas and activities were developed and put into practice.

A new math program was introduced requiring new lesson plans and instructional processes. Strategies for consistency and common practices were shared. We watched our math computation scores on ITBS standardized testing closely. Teachers gave pre and post tests each semester and recorded scores. Math meetings were held at the beginning of each daily lesson. Repetition, drill and timed tests became a regular part of the math routine. As a result we saw our math computation scores increase significantly.

School Climate involved two distinct directions of study...one to highlight and celebrate our diverse student population and the second to improve student-student relationships. Once again teachers were called on to be creative and “think out-of-the-box” to provide activities and programs that encouraged harmonious relationships throughout the student body. Artists in residence from Korea, Japan and Benin, Africa were engaged using grant funding. Formal programming to assist with positive peer interactions were scheduled. Teachers taught regular lessons focused on building respect and cooperation. Student surveys indicated a strong improvement in self-confidence and self-respect.

All of this was accomplished in the midst of regular school programming and curriculum. We have been busy! So, did we accomplish our goals.....did we meet the criteria.....did we pass the test for renewed accreditation? The initial summary report was overflowing with compliments about our achievements. Our visitors were positively overwhelmed as they questioned parents and board members. But, the group that impressed them the most was our students! These young people shared personal pride in their school and expressed thankfulness for the efforts teachers make on their behalf. Yes, our visitors were impressed and we are now ready to begin a new 5 year cycle of efforts to get even better! Pray for us as we continue to do the Lord’s work at Holy Name School.

Holy Name School a Part of Lemonade Days 2011

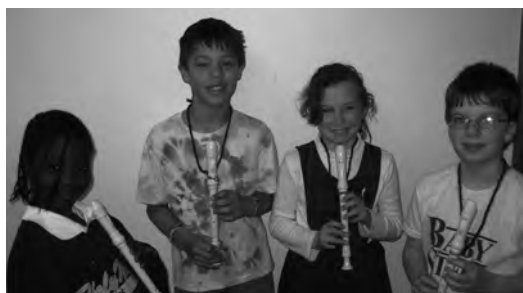

Holy Name teacher Karen Smolinski, with students Nick Davis and Keeley King along with City of Omaha Mayor Jim Suttle at the Lemonade Day Press Conference

Holy Name School was proud to be the only school taking part in the City of Omaha Lemonade Day on May 1. Students became CEO’s for one day by running their own lemonade stand. Fourteen students set-up their own lemonade stand in five different locations around the city. Cole Kuiper one of the student entrepreneurs said “Running your own business is a lot of responsibility and work, but it’s worth it especially when some of the proceeds go to charity”. Holy Name students collectively raised $350.00 and one-third of the monies will go to the following student designated charities: Cancer Research, Susan Komen for the Cure, Children’s Hospital, Humane Society and the Ronald McDonald House. Lemonade Day is a program of Omaha Serves, the city’s initiative to increase citizen engagement to address urgent community needs. One of the city’s priority areas is serving Omaha’s youth and ensuring they have the support and skills necessary to be successful today and in the future. Lemonade Day provided youth with an opportunity to work with a caring adult to develop a business while learning valuable life and job skills.

Making Music at LinkUP Program

The Fourth Grade class at Holy Name Catholic School recently participated in the Omaha Symphony's Community LinkUP

Program on March 30th at the Holland Performing Arts Center. The Omaha Symphony partners with Carnegie Hall to present the program to schools in the Omaha metro area. Students explored melody through work on soprano recorder and voice, creative work in improvisation and composition, and critical listening. With instruments in hand, students applied their skills and played with the Omaha Symphony at the culminating concert. Four Holy Name students were selected to play on stage with the Omaha Symphony at the concert. The students played classical works by Beethoven, Dvorak, Copland, and two pieces commissioned by Carnegie, "Come to Play" and "Simple Melody," pieces that were commissioned by Carnegie. As a follow-up to the concert, students will write narratives to describe their experience and the pieces they played at the concert as part of their music curriculum.

Grab Your Hat and Read with the Cat!

It was that time of year again, to gear up for Read Across America Day and Dr. Seuss's birthday on March 2! Holy Name took part in this wonderful event promoting the love of reading! The teachers talked to their students about their personal love of reading and the book or series that hooked them on reading. The teachers felt that sharing with the students the value of reading for pleasure was very important so on Wednesday, March 2nd the entire student body AND the teachers stopped classes and read a book together. All the students enjoyed the opportunity to read their favorite books!

Students Enjoy Read to Kids 2011

As part of a month long "Read to Kids" program at Holy Name School, Congressman Lee Terry stopped by the 4th grade classroom to read a book to the students. After reading, "Tops and Bottoms", he took time to pose with the class and even gave some autographs to the students. Readers from different walks of life visited throughout the month. It was a time to bond with the community and form lasting relationships with celebrities, public servants, businessmen and women, alumni and parishioners. In total, about fifty celebrity readers joined us throughout Read to Kids Days. The joy of reading is a wonderful gift to share!

BINGO!

BINGO! That cry could be heard at Holy Name School. To cap off Catholic School's Week, the Student Council sponsored an all-school BINGO game. The entire school body met in the cafeteria and played several rounds of BINGO. The Student Council called the numbers and assisted the younger students. There were many happy prize winners. We even had the preschool class join in on the festivities. What a special way to end a very special week!

this year due to the snow days. The late arrival made the celebration even more special to the Kindergarten class at Holy Name. They spent the morning at Fontenelle the brisk weather and then returned to school in time to create the hats shown here. Each child brought 100 of a food item to school. After counting their items, they had a celebratory snack. The students all agreed the day was worth the wait!

Students Learn to Crochet

This week at Holy Name School the students were offered a new experience... crocheting! Mrs. Wieger, our school librarian, assisted by Mrs. Hawley, our first grade teacher, started a crochet club for interested students. Ten students, both boys and girls, joined in. The two left-handed students needed a little guidance from Mrs. Smolinski, our technology coordinator, but once they learned from a "lefty," they did a wonderful job. Also assisting were Mrs. Lee, a parent, and Mrs. Lampe, a grandparent. The students will meet every week learning new stitches and maybe even making a gift for someone.

Pre-K Guest Reader

Julie Bea Wolff Pierson Class of 1961

What is your favorite memory of Holy Name School?

Kindergarten in the little school. First Mass in the new church. Dances in the little gym. Plays and musicals. Redemptorists and Servants of Mary. Teachers. Dear Friends. Being able to walk to Benson for the football games and back to the little gym for dances. The new gym decorated for dances.

After graduation, did you continue on to post secondary education...What career path did you take...What have you done since graduating from Holy Name?

Two years of college, wife and mom first then in business with my husband Dick. Now retired and enjoying grandchildren. I have also had the pleasure of being in several plays at the Elkhorn/Valley Community theatre. I just finished Scrooge, Christmas Past and Oklahoma (Aunt Eller). It was lots of fun.

In your family life after high school (college) – did your learning experiences at Holy Name play a role in your choice of spouse, marriage, in raising your children?

I give my mom and dad most of the credit. Remember two parent families? But everything about that school and neighborhood was truly a village. Our whole lives were centered around the school and church. What a blessing. I couldn't have done it without Sister Callista. I wish I had a nickel for every time I quote something I learned at Holy Name.

Who was your favorite Holy Name grade/high school teacher?

Too many to mention. They all had something unique to share, and they were all so humble and giving. Their example of service caused me to serve in many places in my life and I hope to be able to serve for as long as I live.

If you could go back and tell your Holy Name teachers one thing what would it be?

Thank you. Our class (61) has had the privilege of having many of the teachers at our reunions, and what a trip it must have been to see that we didn't end up in prison. They seemed sincerely thrilled to be able to see us and I know I was grateful for the opportunity to say thank you as an adult. Thank you to Tom, Kathy and Sharon for having the sense to invite them.

What is your advice to current Holy Name students?

I have had the opportunity to read to the children at Holy Name, and I would say to them you are blessed to be at Holy Name. Your staff is tops, and I hope Holy Name will be there forever. That neighborhood, which is so beautiful, would never make it without Holy Name.

In conclusion, what else would you like to say about Holy Name?

Finally thank you for giving me the opportunity to put in words, what has always been in my heart. I made my first Holy Communion, Confirmation, 8th grade graduation, high school graduation, wedding (46 years ago) conversion of my husband and my sons baptism at Holy Name. My heart will be ever grateful for my mom and dad's decision to move to Holy Name.

Class of 1967 Richard Brown Talks About Life and Career

Richard Brown H67 has lived a life most of us only see on television. As a former agent of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Brown has been a part of many high-profile investigations. “During my 30 years with ATF I was involved with arson and bombing investigations, illegal firearms trafficking cases, organized crime syndicates and even a couple of “moonshine” investigations. Many people may not realize it, but ATF was originally established during the prohibition era with Elliot Ness considered to be the forefather of the current day Special Agent. Thinking back on all the investigations I worked on throughout my career, the most memorable one was that of an outlaw motorcycle gang that had committed murders, bombings, assaults and a myriad of other vicious offenses. It was extremely rewarding to be able to take several members of this violent gang off the streets. The investigation had all the makings of a Hollywood thriller and I hope someday they would actually make a movie about it, with my character being played by Brad Pitt.”

After graduation from UNO with a degree in law enforcement and corrections, Brown was hired by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms in 1972 and was sent to Madison, Wisconsin as his first post of duty. He remained there until 1975 then transferred to Minneapolis/St. Paul where he spent the majority of his career, except for three years at the ATF headquarters near Washington, D.C.

However, despite taking down some hardened criminals, Brown credits his education at Holy Name and the firm foundation of faith he established as a student for getting him through life. He also developed many lifelong friendships with many of his classmates with whom he is still in touch. “My faith has been tested in both my personal and professional life and without it I would have been lost.” Brown also states that the lay teachers and nuns at Holy Name reinforced the belief in helping others less fortunate. When asked what he would say to his teachers from high school he replied, “Thank you, any accomplishments I may have gotten throughout my life started with a good quality education based in faith and they are responsible for that.”

Currently living in Coon Rapids, Minnesota with his wife Bev, Brown is the proud parent of two very successful children. Sara who is on the faculty at MIT and lives in the Boston area and Andy who is married and lives in St. Paul where he and his wife Lisa both work for a non-profit social work agency. Although he retired from ATF in 2002, he still continues to work in the law enforcement field as a firearms analyst for ATF and a firearms instructor for the Federal Air Marshals. His advice for current Holy Name students is “dream big and work hard towards those dreams. You are the next generation of scientists, teachers, police officers and doctors.”

Holy Name Spirit A Theme at 2011 Hall of Fame Banquet

The spirit of Holy Name was a common theme among the 2011 Hall of Fame Inductees Joe Kozol H88, Stephen Dwyer G56, Sr. Rosemary Floersch G48 RSM, and Sr. Mary Ellen Doyle OSM at this year’s banquet held on April 14th in the Holy Name Cafeteria. Many individuals spoke of how their experiences at Holy Name shaped their lives in various ways. Award winner Joe Kozol’s, brother Dave, told a very heartfelt story about his brother and his service to Holy Name. When Dave asked Joe why he continues to give back to Holy Name, Joe commented “because it is home.”

Many others told funny stories or antidotes during their speeches. One thing for sure was that, everyone in the room felt the pride of Holy Name!

We thank each of our 2011 Inductees for the time, treasure and talent they have provided to the Holy Name Community throughout the years.

Hetherington Named Omaha Heart Ball Princess

Hannah Hetherington, granddaughter of Carol H59 and Ernest Pfannenstiel, lives with a diagnosis many like her never have to hear. The 2011 Omaha Heart Ball Princess's congenital heart defect is the leading cause of sudden death in athletes. When Hannah began playing basketball in grade school, her parents Jack and Ann, noticed she was easily winded and took her to the doctor. She was diagnosed with sports-induced asthma and continued to play basketball. At times, her lips would turn blue and her parents and coaches would encourage frequent breaks and use of her inhaler. During extreme episodes, Hannah would head to an urgent care facility for a breathing treatment.

At one of those emergency visits, the doctor on call questioned Hannah's original asthma diagnosis and gave her an electrocardiogram to check her hearts' electrical activity. As suspected, the results were abnormal and she was referred to her family physician to follow up. Soon, Cardiologist Dr. Christopher Erickson at Children's Hospital and Medical Center was brought in and made the life-changing diagnosis. The then Millard North freshman was diagnosed with a hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. The next day Hannah had a heart catherization, MRI and a stress test. One week later, Hannah received an implantable cardioverter defibrillator, known as an ICD. More than one year later, Hannah makes it her mission to educate her peers about CPR and heart disease, and to raise money for cardiovascular research breakthroughs. Doctors say Hannah's heart disease has progressed some, but with medication, plenty of rest and proper exercise she is doing well and is optimistic.

(Article courtesy of The American Heart Association)

Since the publishing of The American Heart Association article, Carol Pfannenstiel has updated Holy Name with the following information from Hannah's parents, Ann and John "As a result of Hannah's latest visit to her Cardiac physician, we found ourselves at the UN Med Center this morning visiting with several doctors, nurses, and counselors. We visited with Dr. Ioana Dumitru, a transplant cardiologist, and Dr. John Um, a transplant surgeon, to begin Hannah's evaluation process which will hopefully lead us into gaining a spot on the transplant 'list'. Her latest check up revealed a dramatic change in her heart function since her last check up six months ago. Specifically, it appears Hannah's heart is functioning at only 12%. The way it was explained to us was if her heart was functioning at 50%, we could probably get another year out of her heart with the help of meds, but 12% isn't going cut it."

Thank you to your many prayers, Hannah received a heart transplant on May 2. Please continue to keep Hannah and her family in your prayers.

What is the Wine and Sign Party?

The wine and sign parties allows volunteers to pick the businesses they want to solicit for gifts for the silent auction that occurs at our Harvest Event. For those of you less familiar, here's how Gift Acquisition works:

- The development office prepares solicitation letters for previous and potential business donors.
- At the Wine and Sign event, volunteers select businesses they are willing to contact via follow up calls.
- The Development Office mails the solicitation letters.
- After the letters are sent, the Gift Acquisition volunteers contact the businesses by phone to remind them of the request and facilitate the donation process. In some cases, the donors respond promptly; in other cases, additional calls are needed. Gift Acquisition Team Leaders maintain contact with Gift Acquisition volunteers to ensure the process is going smoothly.
- The Development Office staff assist as requested by sending out additional letters or by arranging to pick up donations.

From the Director of Development

I hope everyone experienced a joyous Easter! With the light of our Lord shining on all of us we can continue our journey. You and so many others bring this light to Holy Name. We are forever grateful for the prayers and support of our Alumni and friends.

The 2011 Annual Appeal, "Shine Your Light, Share Yourself" is going very well thanks to your generous gifts. It is never too late to send in your contribution to the appeal which provides a solid foundation for our students for the upcoming school year. We are very close to our goal of $50,000 and your gift may be the one that puts us over the top!

Right on the heels of this Rambler you will be receiving the latest material on our continuing Capital Campaign. Just as you and I must take care of our homes, we must take care of the buildings on our campus. Over the past fourteen years you have contributed to over $1.9 million dollars toward capital improvements to the buildings. Phase III is just as critical as our first campaign in 1996 because of improved construction processes we can save money by replacing things like lighting fixtures and windows. In order to be the best stewards of your generous gifts we constantly strive to make the most prudent and long lasting improvements to our campus buildings. Please consider a gift to Phase III of Stories Shared, Lives Blessed, Future Embraced.

As spring moves forward the development office staff is already hard at work for Harvest 2011. Our theme this year mirrors our legacy; "Our Faith Shines Through". A Note from Father Frank Alumni Weekend is coming up June 11th and 12th. I truly hope you will be a part of this wonderful celebration! The weekend is special because we get to see many of our alumni and thank them in person for their generosity throughout the years. You play an important role at Holy Name and give tirelessly with your time, talent and treasure. It is an honor to be a part of a community that has such a wonderful group of alumni!

Once again, we will watch students graduate from Holy Name. These young men and women are the future of the parish and school. It is important that they understand the significance of graduating from Holy Name. I challenge you to take a moment to speak to our graduates, as well as our younger students, and let them know the pride that you share as Holy Name alumni. Together, you can create a bridge from the past to the future.

Fr. Frank

We have a very important event to prepare for in 2017, we will be celebrating our centennial! I am working on an article about our church focusing on the art and architectural design. Many things must come together to ensure that this celebration is as important as it should be to our Parish. Personally, I hope the cross on the bell tower of the church can be completed prior to the centennial. Originally it was built with an open top; years later a peaked roof was added to match the design of the church. I have been working with Tony Pflug and a few others to design and install a cross. A bell tower has a symbolic meaning for church beyond calling people to worship. The traditional designs of churches were to show that the church was the ark of safety amidst the chaos that surrounds us in this world. The image of the boat is to be upside down to show that the ark is to bring us safely to heaven rather than glide along the sea of sin. The power source and steering of the boat is the rudder and motor. This is represented by the bell tower, but the image is only complete if there is a cross on the steeple. This shows us that Christ is our rudder or the way, and He is the power that we depend on to get us to heaven.

If you have ideas, significant artifacts or are interested in helping to fund this project, please let me know. This should be a perfect finishing touch to the church that many of you helped to build along with the architect, Carl P. Stangel, my great uncle and your fellow parishioner back then.

As we welcome our alumni back, see our 8th grade graduates move on and look to our centennial we have a lot to celebrate and be thankful for. These things happen because of you: our friends, parishioners and alumni.

Thank you!

Lifetime Holy Name Parishioner to Celebrate 90th Birthday

Gertrude (Ramm) McAndrew will be 90 years young in July. She has lived across the street from Holy Name for 86 years. She was the first of the ten Ramm's to attend HN. Gert graduated with the class of 1939 and was the first Prom Queen! The seven McAndrew children are also Holy Name grads - Fr. Mike G61, Mary Pat Peters H69, Bob H71, Teresa Burks H72, Marty H74, Kathy Watson H75 and Rosie Dinan H80. She has 16 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. Two of her great grandchildren are current students in the grade school at Holy Name.

Gert considers Holy Name her extended family. She attends daily Mass, sings in the choir, belongs to the Confraternity and OK group, volunteers, does sewing for several parishioners and the Creighton Jesuits, plays pinochle every Thursday in the cafeteria, and takes organ lessons in her spare time! She was inducted into the Holy Name Hall of Fame in 2004.

Her birthday is July 24th which is also the day of the Ramm Family Reunion that is held every 5 years in Omaha. She will be surrounded by at least 300 of her favorite people! If you can catch up with her, please wish her Happy Birthday!

St. Patrick's Day Party a Success

The Holy Name St. Patrick's Day party netted over $16,000 in support of Holy Name Catholic Community. Frank Samland and Steve Kimberling won the $10,000 grand prize sweepstakes. Many people came out for the evening to enjoy tasty corned beef sandwiches, ice cold beer, terrific music by Donneybrook and plenty of laughs with friends. Organizers Shawn and Joyceane Peterson estimated a crowd between 500-600 people! Shawn Peterson states,

“the St. Patrick's Day party is always such a good time. We hope that next year we can get more of our alums to join us! It is always great to see old faces at Holy Name.” This event is a fundraiser for Holy Name and the monies raised go to support the overall operations of the church and school.

Fish Fry's Bring in the Crowds

Once again Holy Name Fish Frys were the talk of the town and brought in thousands of people. One couple drove nearly two hours every Friday. When asked, she commented that she tries to never miss a Holy Name Fish Fry, the only reason she will stay away is if the weather is bad. Lucky for us, the only weather we had to deal with was some chilly temperatures and a few showers. This year the average was around 2,200 people each fish fry Friday. Mark your calendars for 2012, first Fish Fry is February 17th!

Holy Name teacher James McDermott and friends wait in line at the Fish Fry
